YOUNG PEOPLE'S SOCIETIES. Topic: "Our Gifts to Our King." (Matt. ii, 1-12.)

The topic for conference at the various young people's societies to-morrow evening Gifts to Our King," which is based on the story of the infant Christ as recordin Matthew 11, 1-12, ed in Matthew ii. 1—12

The lesson is in harmony with the Christmas services which are the order of the day, and is designed to emphasize the importance of remembering Christ in all the gifts of the hour. It is the oid, old story of the star of Bethlehem, of the wise men from the East and their costly gifts. It is designed to touch a tender chord in the heart of all, to bring to the mind the memories of home and the hallowed influences of the family altar, and to awaken in all a desire to remember him who lived and cerved and died that we might have the gift of eternal life.

THE STORY—Guided by the mysterious star, the wise men of the East came to Jerusalem and inquired, "Where is he that is born King of the Jews? For we have seen his star in the east and are come to worship him." But this inquiry troubled Herod and all Jerusalem, for the wicked Herod felt his days as King numbered. So he called a council of the chief priests and the scribes and demanded where the Christ should be born. They told him, "In Bethelem of Judea," as prophesied by the prophet Micah. Then he called the wise men and inquired diligently what time the prophet Micah. Then he called the wise men and inquired diligently what time the prophet Micah. Then he called the wise men and inquired diligently what time the prophet Micah. Then he called the wise men and inquired diligently what time the prophet Micah. Then he called the wise men and inquired diligently what time the prophet Micah. Then he called the wise men and inquired diligently what time the prophet Micah. Then he called the wise men and inquired diligently what time the prophet Micah. Then he called the wise men and inquired diligently what time the prophet Micah. Then he called the wise men and inquired diligently what time the prophet Micah. Then he called the wise many the respects, 4 p. m.

lehem of Judea," as trophessed by the prophet Micah. Then he called the wise men and inquired diligently what time the star first appeared, and sent them on to Bethlehem with the understanding that when they had found the infant King they were to return and bring him word again, that he might "come and worship him also." But being warned of God, the wise men returned by another way, having offered their gifts of gold, frankincense and myrrh.

men returned by another way, having offered their gifts of gold, frankincense and myrrh.

THE LESSON—Such is the story, but what as to the lessons? One great lesson is that the birth of Christ was an event of world-wide interest. Not only were the Jewish shepherds supernaturally informed of his birth, but the Gentile world, represented by the wise men from the East, was also led supernaturally to the manger at Bethehem. Thus in the very introduction of the Christ into this world it was indicated that he was to be the Savior, not only for the Jew, but also for the Gentile, the son of man as well as the son of God. "God so loved the world that he sent his only begotten son, that whoseever believeth in him should not perish, but have etermal life." And so Christ's disciples were commissioned to preach the gospel to every creature and as a witness to all nations. The church in all subsequent ages has proceeded on the same basis, and the gospel is still a stumbling block to the Jew, and to the Greeks foolishness; but to them that believe, both Jews and Greeks, Christ is the power of God and the wisdom of God.

Another important lesson is that from the time of his birth Christ was the source of loy to the real children of God, and the source of envy and hattred on the part of those who were not. Herod feigned to worship him at the very time he was planning his destruction. The arch-enemy of souls from the moment the angels sang, "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men," becan to pianhow he might thwart the plan of redemption by destroying the Christ. Thus he became the center of two great moral forces, the one born of heaven and the other born of heli, until it finally culminated in Christ's death upon the cross. But his death was only the birth of life, so that the wrath of man was made to praise him while he restrained the remainder thereof.

But perhaps the most pertinent lesson is that of the gifts we owe to the Christ in response for what he has done for us. The Apostle says, "He l implements. In this there is a progress from spiritual to temporal good, the light being the cause of all the national prospective the loy and the peace. The land where the lash shome is Gailliec (verse I), which had been in great darkness and contempt, But there is an undoubted reference to every benighted portion of the globe. (18a. xxxv. 1) The nation mentioned is not the old Israel merely, then sinking to decay, but the spiritual kingdom that was to follow (Psalm ii. 8. Isa. ii. 2. Zech. ii. II), which would become the true posterity of Abraham, fuililling the promise of God to him. (Gen. xxii, II; Isa. ixii, II; Rev. vii, IB). The gladness described is likened to the harvest and of the time of victory, when Orientalists were wild with excitement. The deliverance from oppression and the destruction of war implements came as results of the shining light, the new era of peace ushered in by larger views of man. The coins of Vespasian represent Peace as burning a heap of war weapons. 2. The cause of blessedness is represented under six heads: The royal Son. "the honored titles." "the assumed government." "the rightcous administration," "the permanent reign," "the spreading glory." This is well sailed to Oriental thought and monarchical institution. All the evils that had befallen Isrepresented under six heads: The royal Son. "the honored titles." "the assumed sovernment." Hence they chald obtain the covernment. Yates Candidate for Senator Did Not Prove the Attraction at Peoria It Was Hoped For.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL

Peoria, D., Dec. 20.-The much-heralded receition to Congressman Hopkins, the Yates candidate for Senator, held at the National Hotel in this city, to-day, proved to be disappointing.

Mr. Hopkins arrived in the city early in the day accompanied by A. L. Constantine of the Aurora Express, Sheriff Burke of Kane County and E. P. Dutton, all intimate-ly connected with his campaign. Personally signed letters had been sent to prominent politicians of twenty countles in Central Illinois, inviting them to meet at the National to-day, but the number that appeared was very small, and they were confined wholly to the ranks of the Yates men.

The Governor's staff was well represented.
Colonel Smith, of this city, Colonel W. J.
Conzelman of Pekin, the Yates candidate for Congress against Graff, from this district, Colonel R. B. Fort of Lacon, and Colonel Carmon of Livingston, were here with delegations.

The Governor is said to have issued orders to his heachmen to appear at the meeting and this order was pretty generally obeyed, although not wholly. There were not more than thirty persons where they had expected a hundred or more from out of the city.

The day was spent in handshaking and in receiving the various visitors and a big meeting had been planned for the evening, but owing to the smallness of the attend-ance it was postponed. Mr. Hopkins returns to Aurora early to-morrow morning.

FOUND TO POISON IN ORGANS. Expert Testimony Offered in Newell C. Rathbun's Case.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL

Jeffersonville, Ind., Dec. 20.-The expert testimony of Doctor L. D. Kastenbine this afternoon falled to strengthen the case against Newell C. Rathbun, on trial charged with the murder of Charles Goodman, in a crosspiracy to defraud an insurance comwith the marger of Charles Goodman, in a caspiracy to defrand an insurance company.

When the begus body of Rathbun was brought back from Little Rock, the vital ergans were removed by Doctor Kastonbian of Louisville for analysis. Doctor Kastonbian said on the stand that he found no trace of poison. Death by chloroform might have been possible, he said, but there was no evidence, and certainly no evidence of strychnine, opium and kindred poisons. The other witnesses of the day bore on the conspiracy to which Rathbun has confessed, though claiming Goodman died on his hands before the time was ripe to kill him.

Doctor Carl Weidman of Louisville, testified that considering the healthy condition in which the organs of Goodman were found, and as the chemist failed to find any poison, he would naturally draw the con-
